

The 5th Annual

HAWAII

BOOK & MUSIC FESTIVAL

A Celebration of Story and Song

What's new and different in the HBMF program this year?

We have added two World Dance concerts on the Main Stage, presented by renowned dancer and singer Willow Chang, which feature story-telling in a number of hugely various international dance traditions.

HBMF has from the beginning been committed to presenting our host Hawaiian culture in depth, and this year our new "Alana" (Awakening) program tries to show where the most innovative artists are taking classic Hawaiian storytelling, and what are the core issues that are driving the changes.

The Hawai'i Council for the Humanities Pavilion this year presents over 60 writers and thinkers in 14 panels on TELLING TALES: The Uses of Memory, a subject with special resonance in Hawai'i.

There may be an economic recession, but there is surely no lack of vitality in our cultural life. Something to celebrate.
